A Country House,

And about 200 acres of Land, within 3 miles of Alexandria, will be sold by the subscriber. The house was formerly occupied by himself, and is about one third of a mile from his present dwelling. The situation is high and remarkably healthy. The house has 4 rooms, and a kitchen and pantry, on the lower floor, and four chambers with fire places in the 2d story. It was well built under the superintendance of Mr. Lovering, a respectable English architect, and would make a comfortable summer retreat for a genteel family, or might be made a valuable Tavern by opening a road through the land. About one half of the land is in wood; the residue is capable of being made handsome grounds. There is a good well and pump in the yard; and there are several good springs on the land.

The terms of payment will be one fifth in four months; the residue in four equal annual payments with interest; one half secured by notes well endorsed, and the whole by a deed of trust on the land.

Possession may be had immediately.

From the Freeman's Journal.

A PASTORAL LETTER

Of the Synod of Philadelphia, to the Presbyteries and Churches under their care.

CHRISTIAN BRETHREN,

The Synod, assembled in Lancaster at the present time, consists of a greater number of members than have been convened at any meeting for many years; and from their free conversation on the state of religion, it appears, that all the Presbyteries are more than commonly alive to the importance of contending earnestly for the faith once delivered to the Saints; and of resisting the introduction of Arian, Socinian, Arminian, and Hopkinsian heresies, which are some of the means by which the enemy of souls would, if possible, deceive the very elect.

The Synod desire to cherish a stronger regard for the truth as it is in Jesus, than they find at present subsisting among themselves; and, because they are not ignorant of the disposition of many good men to cry "peace," where there should be no peace; and "there is no danger," in cases in which God commands us to avoid the appearance of evil; they would affectionately exhort each Presbytery under their care, to be strict in the examination of candidates for licensure or ordinate, upon the subject of those delusions of the present age, which seem to be a combination of most of the innovations made upon Christian doctrine in former times.

May the time never come, in which our ecclesiastical courts shall determine, that Hopkinsianism and the doctrines of our Confession of Faith are the same things; or, that men are less exposed now, than in the days of the Apostles, to the danger of perverting the right ways of the Lord.

The Synod would exhort particularly all the Elders of the Churches to beware of those who have made such pretended discoveries in Christian theology as require an abandonment of the "form of sound words," contained in our excellent Confession and the Holy Scriptures.

In some portions of our Synodical bounds, exertions have been made, but with little effect, to propagate the doctrine of universal salvation. We rejoice that the shafts of Satan should fall ineffectual from the shield of Jesus; and we desire all persons under our care to present this shield, by maintaining and diffusing assiduously the sentiments of the Word of God, in opposition to every damning error.

Many of our congregations, when their members were few in number, erected large places of worship, with a design to accommodate their posterity. These have, generally speaking, become full; & although many persons remove from us to the southern and western parts of our country yet new tabernacles for the God of Jacob have been found necessary. Nine new churches have been formed within a few years, which are in a flourishing condition; some which were ready to die, have been revived; and in most of our assemblies a more general, constant, and solemn attendance has been given of late than formerly; but alas! the increase of churches bears no proportion to the increase of population.

Three or four of our churches have experienced what is commonly called a revival of religion, and to them accessions of communicants have been numerous but in many other congregations a gradual but almost constant multiplication of the professed friends of Zion, reminds us, that if the thunder storm in summer excites the most attention, it is the continued blessing from the clouds which replenishes the springs, and makes glad the harvest of the husbandman. For the many, who are united in a short time, and for the many, who are gradually gathered to Christ, not by the great and strong wind that rends the mountains, nor by the earthquake, but by the still small voice, which cometh not with observation we would give our Redeemer thanks; & desire the churches to bless him, no less for the daily dew, and the latter, than the early rain.

It is with deep regret too we have ascertained, that only a few of our vacant congregations assemble, when destitute of a ministerial supply, for public worship on the Lord's day. We would unite our voice with that of the general assembly on this subject, in recommending to the elders of such churches, to convene the people of their charge regularly on the Sabbath, for the purpose of hearing some approved sermon, and of uniting in social prayer. Let the elders lead in the devotional exercises of God's house, and invite some one to read a discourse which they may have selected, until some labourer in word and doctrine shall be sent to them, by the Great Head of the church for in so doing they shall be comforted, the church edified, and the Redeemer honoured.

In general, the young people under our care receive regular catechetical instruction; and in many congregations Sabbath associations have been formed for the instruction of the children of the poor, and of people of colour. In several parts of the states of Maryland and Delaware, the slaves have of late received more attention than formerly; and in some few places a large number of them have been admitted to the privileges of the Redeemer's Kingdom. May they all become the Lord's freemen!

The Synod have been peculiarly happy to learn, that a more friendly intercourse and a more intimate union, than have distinguished former times, have of late subsisted between the members of our own body, and the Associate Reformed, the Reformed Presbyterian, and the Reformed Dutch Churches, which we hail as an omen of the approach of that blessed day, in which all who maintain in their purity the same doctrines of grace and system of government, shall be one, & their name one.

In some places the vices of drunkenness, profaneness, and Sabbath-breaking, have increased to an alarming degree, especially through the influence of fairs; but in other places they are much less prevalent than they were. We need not exhort our ministers to preach against all unrighteousness; but were they more pointed, & affectionate in their reproofs, they might hope for more success.

We know of but one Anti-Trinitarian Synagogue in all our borders; and that there may never be another, we pray you, brethren, repeatedly to declare the truth, that the only true God in existance is the Father the Son, and the Holy Ghost; the God who is in Christ Jesus reconciling the works to himself.

Another favorable circumstance which we state is, that in some of our congregations, in which party politics have produced formerly great warmth, the question now asked, concerning a candidate for civil office, "Is he a Christian?" and persons nominated have been neglected because they were known to be unfriendly to Christianity. We beseech you brethern, whatever your political sentiments may be, to elect men fearing God, and hating iniquity, to be your rulers.

The Synod feel it to be incumbent on them to exhibit the destitute state of the counties of Bedford and Cambria, in the state of Pennsylvania, and of Allegany, in Maryland; with a firm persuasion that a simple statement of facts must excite the attention and prayers of the Christian community. The county of Bedford is about 40 miles square, and probably contains with the other two counties which have been named not less than forty thousand inhabitants. Among all these there are at present but two churches, and only one settled Presbyterian minister. In the town of Bedford, which is the resort of the gay world in summer, and which is large and respectable, the Lords Supper was administered once, for the first time, about thirty years ago, and never again until 1806, or near that time: but we believe that only a few of these forty thousand inhabitants, of our Christian country, ever witnessed the administration of that holy ordinance. Many of the families of these counties are wealthy, and desirous of enjoying the ministry of reconciliation: but in general, pastors cannot be supported without some assistance from more popular sections of the church, or from the board of missions. We recommend that all the communications in our churches bear those destitute fellow-citizens on their hearts before the throne of grace, that God in his providence may cause the light of his truth to shine on them, and the ordinances of salvation to abide with them unto eternal life.

Should we, Christian brethen, who have a goodly heritage, sympathise with these destitute people as we ought, we might expect that stated preaches would soon be supported among them, at least in part, until they might be able to maintain pastors for themselves.

We know that calls upon your liberality are numerous and that much territory yet remains to be occupied in the name of the Lord; but be not weary in well doing. We can never do too much for the promotion of the welfare of Zion. May our heads, our hands, our hearts, be devoted to Him, who loved us and gave himself a ransom for us; that great may be our joy, and his glory for ever. Amen.

BONAPARTE.

The following is an extract of a letter from St Helena, dated June 8:

"Instead of Napoleon's condition having been, as was supposed by a few, considerably ameliorated by the change of government, some additional restrictions were judged necessary to be laid on. These for some days produced an unpleasant effect on his mind, and were probably the cause of his confining himself closely to his chamber for several days. He has, however, been seen within a few days driving his carriage, and occasionally riding with his accustomed velocity within his limits as he most religously persists in his resolution of not riding out with a British officer.

"A letter, purporting to be written from St. Helena, has appeared in some of the public papers which have lately reached this island; and were it not that a few of the circumstances mentioned in it, have a distant relation to what really occurred, though miserably garbled and scandalously perverted, one would suppose that it never was the production of a person residing in St. Helena; as one would imagine that an inhabitant, or even a temporary sojourner, would have had opportunities of learning anecdotes less distantly removed from the truth, than those which form the subject of it.

"The author of the letter in question is so grossly ignorant of that which he pretends to relate with great accuracy that he does not even know the name of the officer on duty at Longwood. In the first place no such circumstance occurred as Bonaparte's ordering captain Poppleton to ride in the rear, and that the privilege of riding abreast of him was not for him—neither did he (the captain) refuse to accommodate Napoleon on the following day, or apprise him that he intended for the future to ride with him in uniform. The assertion of captain P. having taken the precaution of sleeping in a room through which Bonaparte must necessarily pass on his way to his own, is too ridiculous to need contradiction, were it not that such a statement, if left uncontradicted, might, with a few, affect the reputation of a most respectable english officer [who has always performed the not unfrequently unpleasant duties of his situation in the most delicate manner] by having it understood that he would execute the degrading office of turnkey.

"The statement respecting the Polish captain is equally false, and more ridiculous. Instead of Napoleon having turned his back upon him, the Polish captain, and asked La Cassas "who that man was?" he received him in the most polite manner, and conversed with him upwards of two hours. Immediately after this, Napoleon dispatched one of his suite to ask him what he stood in need of—money, clothes, linen? With directions, if he had none of the latter, clean, after so long a voyage, to furnish him with some of his own. To this was added an order for 40 or 50l. which was immediately paid. He also had him to dinner with him for several days after.

"Equally true with the above mentioned letter are those which state that Napoleon eats a whole pig stuffed with onions, for breakfast; and eight fowls for dinner! The writer of such absurd stuff, must either be inconceivably silly, or have most contemptible opinions of the understandings of those to whom they addressed them; or they would never attempt to thrust such a farrago of stupid lies down their throats. However, they seem to be greedily swallowed by some of the Journalists. This circumstance drew from Bonaparte one day a remark, that he supposed the Editors of some of the English papers would make him eat a live bullock one meal, horns, and all! This anecdote I have heard from a person who was present. "Sometime back, Sir H. and lady D. Mrs. M'Clintock, Mrs. Wetherall, with several other ladies and gentlemen, were introduced to him in the garden, to all of whom he was extremely affable, and they departed highly pleased with their reception. When this was mentioned to him afterwards, that the Ladies were particularly gratified, and that they were surprised to find him so different a person from what he had been represented, he is said to have replied laughing, 'I suppose they imagined that I was some strange animal with two great horns sticking out of my head.'"

"It has been asserted that he has frequently reviled the memory of Kleber and even by some that he caused his assassination. Quite the contrary would appear from the very handsome manner in which he speaks of him. A short time back he expressed himself in the following manner:—"If Kleber had lived, the English never would have taken Egypt with an army without cavalry and few cavalry. The Turks were nothing." "Kleber Kleber," repeated he, "was an irreparable loss to France and to me. He was a man of the brightest talents, a general of the greatest bravery"—"Menou," he observed, "was a brave man, but destitute of talents."

"The friends of the relatives of the late lamented Sir J. Moore, would probably not be displeased to hear the following tribute of applause paid to his memory by an enemy whose capacity to judge need not be pointed out—"Moore," said Napoleon, "was a brave soldier, an excellent officer, a man of talent. He made a few mistakes which were probably inseparable from the many difficulties by which he was surrounded, and which likely caused by the incorrectness of his information having misled him." This he repeated, observing, "that Moore had commanded the service in Egypt, where he evinced considerable talent. He died," added he, "gloriously—he died like a soldier." Speaking about St. Helena, he observed, "that such was the deplorable state of the island, that the inhabitants considered the absence of actual want, or the lack of starvation, as the greatest blessing.—For example," said he, "P—— went the other day to R——'s, and there the said to him, "Oh, how happy you must be to have fresh meat every day at dinner! Oh! if we could but enjoy that how happy we should be!"

"It was stated some time back, Napoleon's maitre de hotel, and one of his suite, had signed a paper, pursuant to orders received from England, to do that or quit St. Helena, purporting their willingness to remain and submit to such restrictions as it might be thought necessary to impose on them. The following an abstract from that paper:—We t designed, wishing to remain in vice of the Emperor Napo sent, however dreadful may be St. Helena, to remain in it, ourselves to such restrictions arbitrary and unjust they may have been imposed upon the the persons in his service."

ALEXANDRIA:

TUESDAY, October 1.

The last Buffaloe Gazette observes, "The Niagara Falls have attracted an unusual number of visitors this season. Instances are many of gentlemen from the southern states, and even from England, to view this 'stupendous work' of nature. However, there are not wanting on this frontier other objects of interest to the European and American traveller. The names of Erie, Chippewa and Niagara, are associated with bravery and chivalric heroism."

We have ample assurances that Connecticut continues federal, root & branch. The federal tickets for members of Congress and state assistants, composed of the good old school federalists, have prevailed by full majorities.

The following is a list of the gentlemen elected to Congress from Connecticut: Hon. Timothy Pitkin, Jonathan O. Moseley, Lewis B. Sturges, Epaphroditus Champion, Lyman Law, Sylvanus Backus, and Samuel B. Sherwood—all of the present Congress, excepting the two last, who are in the room of Messrs. Davenport and Tallmadge, who declined being candidates.

A villain detected.—A man named Augustus Stisser, who had passed several counterfeit bank bills at Rome, was arrested in this village on Friday night. He had with him about 1200 dollars in counterfeit bills, which he attempted to conceal by throwing them under the bed on which he was preparing to rest himself, when the officer arrested him. He had bills of 10 dollars on the N. York bank, of 5 dollars on the Mechanics bank of N. York, and of 75 cts on Ontario Bank.—Utica Gaz.

On Friday evening last, before day light had entirely disappeared a gentleman who was riding over Winter Hill, in Charlestown, was stopped by a man on foot, who seized the reins from his hands, presented a pistol and demanded his money. The gentleman gave up the change in his pocket, amounting to but little more than a dollar, and the robber, who was too much in a hurry to inquire for his pocket book, made off. The gentleman robbed soon communicated the affair to a number of workmen at the brick yard near by, and a diligent search was made for the highwayman, but without success.

Latest from Rio de La Plata.

We have received by the Maria, says the New-York Columbian, some papers, from Buenos Ayres in Upper Peru, in which it is stated, that the enemy's army had retreated from Tarrija, and that a party of the patriots had defeated, at Cuti, a body of 300 royalists. It is said in a Lima newspaper, that the insurrections of Cusco and the provinces of Puno continue. The commandant, Martinez, defeated two small divisions of royalists, and is now encamped at Vitichi.

In the paper of the 16th, it is said that General Artigas, upon hearing that the Portuguese intended to attack the Oriental Banda, eastern district, marched at the head of 8,000 men, in order to surprize them on the frontiers. At the same time he ordered the garrison of Montevideo to be reinforced with 3000 militia, and destined 10,000 muskets to be given to the interior militia, to prevent their landing.

In that of the 23d there are some strictures favorable to General Artigas, whose name, it appears, has been inserted in the army register of Spain as a Brigadier General in the service of Ferdinand! This artifice was intended to make the Spanish Americans jealous of him without cause, or to tempt him to desert the cause of his country. The trick is not likely to produce one effect or the other.

By the passengers in the Maria, we learn, that the independence of the United Provinces of Rio-de-la-Plata, had been celebrated in Buenos Ayres, in the latter end of June, with every display of joy. General Belgrano had marched to relieve General Rondeau. The expedition of the Portuguese is said to be solely intended to strengthen their own frontiers. No doubt they will wait till Ferdinand VII, can send a respectable division to join them in an enterprize, whose results will infallibly prove disastrous to the king of Portugal.

IMPORTANT.

A letter to a respectable house in Baltimore, received via New York, dated Buenos Ayres, July 26, says:—"On the 9th inst. the Congress at Tucuman declared the Provinces of Rio de la Plata, a free and independent government; which was accordingly communicated officially to our consul on the 19th, and goes by this opportunity to our government. Balt. Pat.

The following is an estimate of the population of the five independent republics of South America, and their armies, & the nature of their respective governments.

Republic of Mexico.—The population of Mexico, comprising Guatimala and Yucatan, is little more than 8,000,000. By the constitutional decree of the Mexican congress in 1814, the provisional government is constituted by the people, represented in the electorial colleges: it is distributed into three distinct and independent branches, and the persons of the citizens or foreigners, and their property, are declared under the safeguard of liberal laws. The army consists of from 40 to 50 thousand men, badly armed.

New Grenada and Venezuela.—The population amounts to 3,000,000. The government representative and popular, as in Mexico, with little difference in the internal organization of the provinces. This is the principal theatre of war at present. Unless the Spaniards under Morillo has captured Carthagena and Santafee de Bogota, we know of the existence of the following republican forces, viz.; 3,000 men under gen. Urdaneta, in the province of Socorro: 1,000 cavalry under col. Rovira, in the neighborhood of Cucuta; 2,900 men under brigadier generals Cabal and Serviers, in the province of Popayan; 3,000 under gen. Texader, of Antioquin: 3,000 under the governor of Choco: 3,000 under Marino, Saraza, Bermudez, and Pino, in Venezuela—total 16,900.

Republic of Rio de la Plata.—Population 3,000,000. All the provinces are free and independent. The congress is now assembled in Tucuman, for the purpose of regulating their government. Their army amounts to 30,000 regulars and militia; they are carrying on the war in Lower Peru & Chili, under gens. Rondeau and San Martin.

Republic of Chili.—Population, 1,500,000: army, 3,000 men in the province of Coquimbo, and 4,000 under Gen. San Martin, who were waiting at Mendoza on account of the great depth of Snow, to cross the Andes, and fall upon the royalists, whose situation is well described in the last unparallelled proclamation of their capt gen. declaring all the inhabitants of the capital under arrest, à la militaire.

Republic of Peru.—Population, 3,000,000: government vested in the cabildos; army, reduced to numerous guerilla parties, amongst whom the Argulas are most conspicious. The revolution broke out in the city of La Paz, and afterwards in the capital of the ancient in Casel Cusco. The sufferings of the people from 1780 (when the celebrated Tupac Amarn was treacherously taken prisoner, and beheaded in the most barbarous manner) till our day, are numberless, and their constancy unparalleled.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, about ten o'clock last night, Negro ISAAC, about 21 years of age, about 5 feet 8 inches high, very stout made and somewhat bow-legged—he has remarkable long flat feet and long heels—he had a variety of clothing which is deemed unnecessary to describe.

He stole away from my stable, at the same time, a BLACK PONEY, stout made, with roached mane, bob tail, paces, canters and trots, branded with the figure 2, and is remarkable for a stately carriage in his gait.

Also, ran away in company with Isaac, his brother DENNIS, about 18 or 19 years of age, very black, rather taller and not so stout made as Isaac, he took off a small BAY HORSE, in bad order.

It is presumed Isaac has a false pass, and will endeavor to get to the northern states.

I will pay the above reward for the apprehending said fellows, and confining them in any jail out of the state, so that I get them again, or if taken in the state, and delivered to me at my residence at Occaquan, Prince William County, Virginia, I will give a very liberal reward and pay all reasonable charges.

JAMES KENNEDY & SON,

BOOKSELLERS, KING STREET,

Have just received from LEE'S PATENT MEDICINE Store, No. 46 Maiden Lane, N. York,

A FRESH SUPPLY

Of the following genuine Medicines.

For the prevention and cure of Bilious and Malignant Fevers, is recommended

Hahn's Anti-Bilious Pills.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings, in several parts of the West Indies, and the Southern & Middle States, particularly in N. York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Petersburg, Richmond, Norfolk, Edenton, Wilmington, Charleston, and Savannah. The testimony of a number of persons at each of the above places can be adduced, who have reason to believe, that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives, when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy, founded on mere assertion.

It is not, indeed, presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these Pills, taken once in every two weeks, during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventative; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate, and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation, and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to cary off superfluous bile & prevent its morbid secretions—to restore & amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which is so often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance—they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficatious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES.

Which have cured an immense number of persons of both sexes, of every age, and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from worms, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of, as operating with violence; on the contrary, a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is also mild in its operation, cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old, should no worms exist in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanse the stomach and bowels, of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms, and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

DESCRIPTION OF WORMS.

And the symptoms by which they are known:

Worms which infest the human body, are chiefly of four kinds, viz.—The Teres, or large round worm; the Ascarides, or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitina, or short, flat, white worm; and lastly, the Tænia, or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long, and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food, and sometimes voracious; purging, with slimy & fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; slow fever, with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms, should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success, in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm seaeon, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number, when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout asthmatic gout, palsy, lumbagoo, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, braises, pain in the face and neck, etc.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellant minerals, (the basis of other lotions) and of unparralled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c. The Persian Lotion operates mildly, without impeding the natural insensible perspiration, which is essential to health, yet its effects are speedy and permanent, rendering the skin delicately soft and smooth and improving the complexion.

The Restorative Powder for the teeth and Gums.

This excellent preparation comforts and strengthens the gums, preserves the enamel from decay, and cleanses and whitens the teeth, by absorbing all the acrimonious slime and foulness, which suffered to accumulate, never fails to injure and finally ruin them.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of the various complaints resulting from dissipated pleasures, juvenile indiscretions, residence in climates unfavourable to the constitution, the immoderate use of tea, frequent intoxication or any other destructive intemperance the unskilful or excessive use of mercury, the diseases peculiar to females at a certain period of life, bad lyings in, &c.

FOR SALE,

Valuable Property.

A TRACT of land in Fairfax county, situate one and an half miles from Occoquan, and twelve from Alexandria, containing 1000 acres—900 of which are heavily timbered.

There are on this property, a comfortable dwelling house, kitchen, granary, stabling for fourteen horses, and several small houses for negroes; an apple orchard in full bearing, and two springs of excellent water very convenient to the buildings.

The soil is naturally good and very susceptible of improvement by the clover and plaister sytem. This land is known to yield between 20 & 30 cords of wood per acre, exclusive of timber &a ready sale for all the wood that can be carted to the beach.

To persons wishing to embark in the timber business, this would be an advantageous purchase.

The subscriber will sell with this property two excellent waggons and teams, together with all the necessary utensils for farming and conveying timber.

The subscriber will also sell one sixth part of the following undivided property, viz.

A tract of land lying on the south side of Four Mile Creek, known by the name of the Preston tract, situate one and half miles from Alexandria, and four from Washington and Georgetown. This tract contains 1950 acres. The public roads passing between the above mentioned cities, together with many local advantages render this property particularly desirable.

Also, 1400 building lots in Alexandria, situate in wards

No. 2 and 3, lying principally on Cameron, Queen, Oronoko, Pendleton, Withe, Jefferson & Madison streets.

Also, one hundred and twenty acres of land situate an half mile from Alexandria on the Leesburg road, adjoining Peter Sherron's lots, formerly Conway's meadows.

Also, a tract or parcel of land in King George county, Virginia, 50 miles from Alexandria, situate opposite Mary'and point, on Potomack river, and binding one mile thereon, known by the name of Boyd's Hole, and containing 1400 acres. Nine hundred acres of this property are in heavy timber, inferior to none on Potomack river.

On this land is a store house which rents for 25 pounds per annum, a dwelling house, with all other necessary out houses.

Also, a tract of Land in the upper part of Fairfax county, bordering on the Loudoun line, about two miles from the Great Falls of Potomac, containing 423 acres. There are on this tract an excellent dwelling house, kitchen, stable, granary, a large apple orchard of the most select fruit, a spring of good water, and a sufficiency of fuel, and rail timber to supporting a farm. A liberal credit will be given for one half of the purchase money, and stock in any of the chartered banks, or chartered paper will be received in payment.

Richard B. Alexander.
